

MOVEMENT IS INAUGURATED

Which It Is Hoped Will Eventually Lead To Organization of a Y. M. C. A.

MEETING MONDAY EVENING.

Matter Discussed.—Money Would Have to be Raised For Building.

Recently there has been considerable quiet talk in the city of the great need of a Y. M. C. A. here, the interest in the proposition having increased since the start of the Men's Religion Forward Movement. Monday evening at the call of Supt. Linke a committee of a dozen men met at the library to consider the proposition to inaugurate a movement for the establishment of a local Y. M. C. A. Supt. Linke presided at the meeting and Will Masters acted as secretary. Dr. Thomas of the Methodist church, who has had considerable experience in the Y. M. C. A. work and has in the past engaged in movements for forming such organizations and building association halls was present by invitation and discussed the proposition for which the meeting had been called. He expressed his deep interest in the proposition and the belief that if there is earnest work here the movement can be made a success but called attention to the fact that it is an undertaking which means hard work and many difficulties to overcome. The state and national organization officers, in the light of numerous failures owing to a lack of financial backing, do not encourage the establishment of the Y. M. C. A. in small cities unless there is evidence that it will have the necessary financial support to make it permanent. There was general discussion of the matter by B. F. Schneck, R. J. Thompson and others present and it was the sentiment of all that no greater work for the moral welfare and general good of the young men of the city could be accomplished than the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. but it was also generally accepted that a large sum of money must be raised so that a proper building can be erected free of debt and which besides furnishing a home for the organization will provide at least part of the income for its support. It was decided to begin an agitation to arouse the deep and general interest in the proposition necessary to make it a success when the time shall come to begin the definite work or raising necessary money. It is believed that when the time comes the railroads and interurbans will show an interest in the movement and lend their substantial aid. There are many railroad men in the city especially on the B. & O. who would appreciate the advantages of a Y. M. C. A. building with its baths, reading and lounging rooms, gymnasium and dormitories. The need has long been felt in the city of a place where the young men and the older men for that matter could have a place for gathering and for their entertainment without going to places which are not elevating and which are dangerous. There would be in a Y. M. C. A. here the possibilities of untold and unlimited good. No investment could be made by Seymour citizens that would bring greater returns.

MEN'S MOVEMENT

Will Be Addressed by Rev. W. O. Goodloe Next Sunday.

Arrangements have been made under direction of the Committee of One Hundred for a mass meeting of men to be held at the First M. E. Church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to be addressed by Rev. W. O. Goodloe, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city. He is widely known through southern Indiana as a clear thinker and a forceful speaker. At a meeting of men held recently at Scottsburg some of his hearers said his address was the best they had heard since the Men's Movement had started. Every man in the city of Seymour and vicinity is invited to attend this meeting and hear the address which will be made.

FIRE AT THICKET

Evidence Against Man Charged With Murder of Eugene Huckleberry.

A letter received from Waco, Texas said that at the preliminary hearing of Harrison Vick last Saturday morning, charged with the murder of Eugene Huckleberry, a farm-hand employed by Mr. Vick testified that after ordering the young man from the field Mr. Vick took a Winchester rifle, laid it on the fence, taking deliberate aim at the thicket and fired. After the shot he turned to the young man with the remark, "Now, I guess they'll leave the place." The young man could not see the object at which Mr. Vick fired, but testified that he fired in the direction in which Mr. Huckleberry's body was found later in the thicket. Mr. Vick was bond over to the grand jury but his bond was fixed at the sum of $2,000.00.

POULTRY SHOW

Will Be Open To The Public Tomorrow Morning.

Society hall in the Majestic theatre building has been a busy place all day as the coops of chickens and other domestic birds were placed in position for the Southern Indiana Poultry Association's Show. By noon today enough fine poultry was already in the hall to insure the show being a success and the exhibits have been coming in all afternoon. They must all be in the hall by this evening and the show will be open to the public Wednesday morning. There are many exhibits not only from Jackson county but from neighboring counties.

CASH REGISTER

Stolen From a Store at Medora Monday Night.

Unknown parties entered the store of R. F. Martin at Medora Monday night by a window at the rear of the building and took the cash register containing between fifty and sixty dollars. There is no clue as to who the guilty parties are.

All teamsters and contractors are requested to meet at the City Hall Friday, Jan. 26, at 7 o'clock p. m.

OTHER ENTRIES

Possible In Democratic Race For Joint Senator.

It is possible that the next few days may see the entrance of several new candidates into the race for the Democratic nomination for joint senator. Thus far Ed Elsner of Seymour is the only avowed candidate. It is known however that Senator Long of Brown county, who holds the job at present, is having a hard time to suppress the desire to continue the job of making laws. He has not announced his candidacy for renomination but it is known that he is consulting Democrats as to the advisability of doing so; it is said however that he told some one from this county that he would not be in the race if Jackson county has a candidate. There is a possibility of the revival of the old alliance between Washington and Brown county forces which four years ago resulted in the defeat of Carl Wood and the nomination of the Brown county man. One of the provisions of the deal made between the two counties then it is said was that Washington county should have the nomination this year. However such a deal could not be made binding and furthermore there are new circumstances to be reckoned with this year. Then Washington and Brown had a total of 18 votes against 17 in Jackson. Now the latter has 18 and the other two still have the old number. Furthermore Snyder, who was the Washington county candidate, four years ago has moved to Bloomington. Although Washington has yet no avowed candidate there is a possibility that if one gets into the race over there others will also enter which would not help the county in case primaries in the three counties must settle the matter. It is said three Washington county men have been badly tickled by the senatorial bee, the three being Zack Seifers, Will Hottle and representative Emmett Mitchell. It is generally recognized that Elsner has the best of the chances any way the matter is settled. If he has this county solid all he will have to do is to pick one lone delegate off in either of the other counties whereas a candidate from either of the other counties must get both Brown and Washington lined up solidly for him and in addition must break into this county. All three counties have primaries for the nomination of other candidates and it is possible that the senatorial matter may come before them. Elsner would still have the same advantage in this case though it would make a hard and expensive contest.

SEYMOUR MAN IS SELECTED

As First of Defendants in James Mitchell Murder Case to Be Tried.

TRIAL SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Charles Mitchell Held to Have Been Leader in Tragedy.—Assistant Prosecutor.

Charles Mitchell the Seymour man who with two others is charged with the murder over in Lawrence county the night of November 4th of James Mitchell, is to be the first of the trio to stand trial. At Bedford Monday his attorney, Joseph Ikerd, asked a separate trial for him and Simpson B. Love made the same request for his client, Joseph Fultz. The evidence is that these two are the most guilty of the three. Younger, the other man in the case, will probably be tried last.

Charles Mitchell was given the honor of first facing a jury in the case because the state believes he was the ring leader in the tragedy and was the brains of the conspiracy to commit the murder. As his trial comes first the state will probably exert its strongest efforts to convict him for the effect it will have on the succeeding trials.

A special venire of forty names was drawn Monday and the jury will be selected from this list.

Judge Shea has appointed John H. Underwood to assist Prosecutor Hays in the trial of the case. Underwood was prosecutor in Lawrence county at the time the crime was committed and gathered much of the evidence at that time which will be used in the case. The Bedford Mail says that he will probably take the lead and practically conduct the trials. Both Hays and Underwood are candidates for the Democratic nomination for prosecutor at this time and as this trial has aroused intense interest in Lawrence county, the conduct of the case will doubtless be closely watched. The Bedford papers state that it is expected that the court room will be crowded each day.

Came From the South.

The Indianapolis Sun says: The first strawberries of the year are on sale at 65 cents a quart. The next consignment will be received from Florida by grocers Tuesday, although a few quarts were speedily disposed of Saturday. They are not hothouse berries, but really grown in the ground having survived well the effect of the far southern sweeping cold wave. But they do not come in crates. They are shipped in little refrigerators, each containing about a dozen quarts.

Strawberry shortcake also has made its appearance in the dairy lunches and cafes. It sells for 15 cents a wedge, and consists of two thick pieces of sponge cake with nine half strawberries, or four and a half whole strawberries, interposed. The strawberries are dark, and bear faint hints of the real summer strawberry taste.

Grocers expect that by the last of February strawberries may be obtained for 18 or 20 cents a quart.

To Strengthen Health Law.

The state board of health has in preparation a bill to present to the next general assembly, that looks to a modification and strengthening of the present law concerning county health officers.

A provision to make the county health commissioner directly answerable to the state board of health, although selected by the board of county commissioners; a provision whereby such commissioner will not be permitted to engage in the private practice of medicine during his term in office, as is now provided for the secretary of the state board, a provision making the commissioner public health officer for all cities and towns in his county of ten thousand population or less, provided he may have deputies in the cities and towns under him; a provision requiring that he gives his entire time to the work of disease prevention and the handling of contagious diseases, together with the promotion of the general sanitary conditions and the fostering of education along health and sanitation lines; a provision requiring that before an applicant can be certified for appointment he must, as now, be certified by the state board of health; a final provision for sufficient salary to enable high-grade men to accept the place of commissioner.

The state board has found in the administration of public health laws that the fact that public health commissioners are practitioners and come into competition with other physicians often hinders the progress of the work. A more efficient system may be brought about, in the opinion of the board, by doing away with this competition.

Horse Thieves Scarce.

That the horse and cattle thief who formerly operated at large in Texas, is passing is indicated by the recent report of the chairman of the Texas penitentiary system which shows horse thefts in New York City are more frequent than in the entire State of Texas. Moreover the report indicates a greater percentage of convictions of horse thieves in Texas than in New York City.

This reference in the report is merely incidental, but is of more than passing interest because of the erroneous belief still prevalent in some sections that horse thieves, six shooters and other evidences of early frontier days still reign in Texas. In comparing statistics on horse thefts New York offered interesting data, being the largest city in the country. In New York horse thefts generally are successful for the animal is stolen and disposed of before the law is on the trail of the thief. In Texas the inroads of the majesty of the law have cut the ratio of this department of crime below that of the American metropolis.

Out of a pair of Felts, Arctics or Rubbers in one day when the thaw comes with its slush, ice and water, and as winter has just begun there will probably be several more snows with their accompanying thaws. With the passing of cow hide boots and shoes, rubbers became a necessity, the demand for them increases every year as people more and more realize the necessity of guarding their health. Then there is the comfort. Wearers of Rice & Hutchins shoes are comfortably tastefully and economically shod.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE

MONOMANIACS.

A woman died in Peru, Ind., the other day in a mean and ugly room and supposedly dependent upon charity. In an old leather bag was $47,000, which was discovered by wondering neighbors.

Miserable creature!

Consider what the bag of gold might have brought the woman. She could have had pretty clothes and comfortable surroundings, plenty to eat, medical attendance in her sickness, perhaps a prolongation of life.

She might have had the countless little delicacies and the attentions craved by the normal woman who can afford them.

But—

She evidently preferred barren and comfortless surroundings, rags and bare subsistence. Why? That she might close the shutters of her windows and run her fingers through the gold pieces and gloat over their yellow faces.

Strange obsession?

It certainly was. But when you come to think of it there are many ways by which one may sell himself for gold.

There are business men who will deny themselves the common joys of friendship, the companionship of their families, the vacations they sorely need, not for the sake of a living, but merely in order to pile up money they do not need.

Like the woman, they are money mad.

They are monomaniacs.

Also there are women who care more for social pleasures than for the welfare of their children and others who will imperil their husbands' business because of their mania for dress or equipage.

Everywhere are those who sell their birthrights for a mess of pottage.

Why?

Because of a misconception of the value of things.

Emphasis is laid upon things that are not worth while, things that cannot permanently satisfy, things that do not abide.

He only is sane who is content with the simple, everyday things of a well balanced life and who strives toward the attainment of that which is best and noblest.

Beautiful Bridge in China

There are some extraordinarily graceful bridges in China, and among them one of the most beautiful is that which spans the Yangtse river at the town of Wan-Hsien. The place is above the great gorge district of the Yangtse, and the houses, owing to the steepness of the banks, are supported on tall piles.

PECULIAR WHITEWASH

When traveling through the rural districts of Uruguay, says the American consul at Montevideo, one's attention is attracted to the fine white color of the farm buildings, even during the wet season. To obtain this neat effect a whitewash is used which is made with the sliced leaves of the common cactus, macerated in water for 24 hours, producing a solution of creamy consistence. To this lime is added and well mixed. When applied to any surface, be it wood, brick, iron, or other material, a beautiful pearly white appearance is produced which will endure through storms and frosts for many years. It is suggested that in sections of the United States where the cactus is a nuisance the plant might be utilized in this manner.

TOMB OF HAROUN'S FAVORITE

Very little remains to mark the golden age of Bagdad, though one constantly comes across the yet more ancient bricks bearing the stamp of Nebuchadnezzar that have been brought from the ruins of Babylon and are used in modern buildings. We do not know even where the famous palace of Haroun-al-Rashid stood. From this epoch remain only the tomb of Zobaida, Haroun-al-Rashid's favorite wife, here pictured, and Khan Orma, a handsome and extensive caravanserai.

CHINA HAS NO TYPEWRITERS

Typewriters are now made for use in nearly a hundred different languages, and they are sold all over the world; but there is still one great nation which, for a very simple reason, has no typewriters that write its tongue. That nation is China.

The English alphabet has 26 letters, the Russian 36. The typewriter produced for the Russian market is the largest made; but no typewriter could be made that would begin to be big enough for the Chinese language, which has no alphabet but is represented by sign characters, of which there are about 50,000. Of the great number of words found in the English language only a small proportion are used for the ordinary purposes of speech, and the same is true of the characters used in the Chinese language; but the number of Chinese characters commonly employed is still far greater than could be put on any typewriter. So this nation of 400,000,000 people has no typewriter in its own tongue.

But that doesn't mean that no typewriters are sold in China. More and more Chinese are learning other languages besides their own, and Chinese merchants and resident foreign merchants use typewriters, and they are used in legations and in consular offices and in banks and shipping offices and colleges, and by missionaries, by various people. Altogether there are sold in China a good many typewriters.

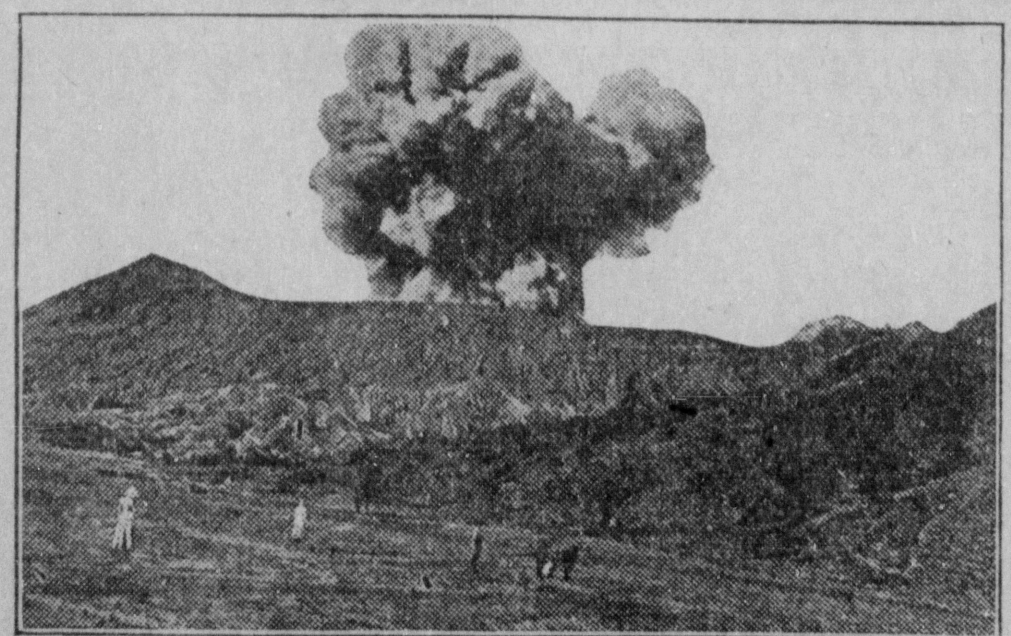

VIOLIN MADE OF MATCHES

A violin made of matches is a unique conception. This is what W. M. Finstad, of Bay City, Wis., has accomplished. He has actually made a violin from matches, using 5,450 of the inflammable sticks and a year's time in its construction. It has a full, sweet, mellow tone, and undoubtedly there is not another one like it in existence. It was exhibited at the Minnesota state fair and attracted a great deal of attention.

"CATS' EYES" OF AMOY

Vice-Consul Charles F. Brissel states that "cats' eyes" are abundant in Amoy, and cost about $1 a bushel. It is reported that these are imported into Amoy from Shanghai and Canton and are made from mother-of-pearl and dyed.

Bromo Volcano and Sand Sea

One of the wonders of the world is the famous Bromo volcano of Java, with its remarkable sand sea. The natives fling into the flaming crater offerings of goats, fowls, fruits and money. In times past youths and maidens were thrown into the fiery abyss to appease the spirits of the mountain. The sand sea is ribbed by the action of the winds, just as the sands of the real sea are by the tides and waves.

THE LAST STRAW.

An old woman entered a savings bank the other day and walked up to the desk.

"Do you want to withdraw or deposit?" asked the clerk.

"Now Ol doant. Ol wants to put some in," was the reply.

The clerk pushed up the book for her signature, and said, "Sign on this line, please."

"Me whole name?"

"Yes."

"Before Ol was married?"

"No, just as it is now."

"Ol can't wroite."

His Quick Recovery.

"You made a quick recovery."

"Yes. You see, I employed two doctors."

"Two?"

"Sure. They spent nearly all their time quarreling over my treatment and that gave me the chance I needed."

Its Status.

"Our congress is the finest legislative body going."

"No, the British house of commons is, and I can prove it."

"How so?"

"Why, you must admit the house of commons is without a peer."

A Preference.

"I shall leave my reputation to be judged by posterity."

"That's a good idea," said Senator Sorghum. "The way things are going I'd much rather take my chances with posterity than with an investigating committee."

Kindred Spirits.

"Lady," said Plodding Pete, "I ain't had a square meal in two days."

"Well," said the resolute woman, as she turned the dog loose, "neither has Towser, so I know you'll excuse him."

"How's that?"

"The part you talk with is out of proportion to the part you think with."

Natural Deduction.

"Papa, are lawyers always bad-tempered?"

"No, daughter; why do you ask that?"

"Because I read so much in the papers about their cross-examinations."

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, in a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble."

My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription.

We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We can give you a trial size bottle for 25 cents that will be enough to prove it.

Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

Good Reading for Next Year

GOOD reading is as necessary to the growth of the mind as good food to the growth of the body. The man who supplies his family with good books and good magazines has done for them the greatest service next to supplying them with food and shelter. We are very glad indeed to announce that has made arrangements to receive at this office subscriptions for "the greatest magazine in the world"—The Century, and for "the best loved magazine"—St. Nicholas, for boys and girls.

The Seymour Republican

The Century in 1912

will contain—beginning in the January number—a new novel, "Stella Maris," by W. J. Locke, author of "The Beloved Vagabond," etc.

Professor E. A. Ross is writing for the Century during 1912, four articles of great significance and interest on The Middle West and what it stands for. Many policies, he says, now Western, are bound to become in the end American policies.

"Everybody's St. Francis," by Maurice Francis Egan, American Minister to Denmark, will be a noteworthy life of the saint, who for five centuries has stirred the admiration of Catholics and Protestants alike.

The Century has also in hand articles and pictures of rare interest and value on Charles Dickens and on Napoleon, "The American Undergraduate," by Clayton Sedgewick Cooper—his general characteristics, "Education à la carte," choosing a college, society life in American colleges, the place of the American undergraduate in the world today—will be full of timely suggestion.

The Century will continue to hold high its standard of art and illustrative features. Timothy Cole's "Masterpieces of American Galleries," Joseph Pennell's series of The Panama Canal, and Boutet de Monvel's illustrations for St. Francis of Assisi, will be of special interest.

St. Nicholas in 1912

will continue to stand at the forefront in juvenile literature—known everywhere as the world's premier magazine for boys and girls. An important serial or series of articles will begin with every number from November to April. St. Nicholas is made for and addressed to the great army of active, bright-minded, young Americans, and dominated by the American spirit. "Crofton Chums" by Ralph Henry Barbour, author of "The Crimson Sweater," "The Lady of the Lane" by Frederick Orin Bartlett, author of "The Forest Castaways," and "The Knights of the Golden Spur" by Rupert Sargent Holland, will be among the prominent features.

A Holiday Suggestion

CAN you think of a better gift to one who likes to read than twelve months' such reading as is found in the Century Magazine? And, if you are a father or a mother, ask yourself if you can think of anything that will bring greater joy to your little flock than St. Nicholas twelve times.

SPECIAL OFFER We are able, by special arrangement with the Century Co., to make the following offers:

THE CENTURY one year, November and December included free, 14 numbers for . . . $4.00

ST. NICHOLAS for one year, November and December included free, 14 numbers for . . . $3.00

THE CENTURY & ST. NICHOLAS (new subscription) together, sold to one person, for one year, 28 numbers, 3,500 pages of good reading for old and young . . . $6.00

FINDS BABY WAIF

Daughter of New York Banker Discovers Bundle on Steps.

Child Thought Cries Were Those of a Kitten—Is Anxious to Claim Ownership of Orphan Deserted by Mother.

New York.—Bright and early one morning little Rosemary Hollister, the eight-year-old daughter of George T. Hollister, banker, 107 East Sixty-ninth street, raced breathlessly downstairs to the telephone and called up Bellevue hospital.

She could hardly wait for the connection to be made, and then, with an eager catch in her voice, asked:

"How is my baby today?"

Delight radiated over her features as she heard that the baby had slept soundly in the infants' ward.

"Thank you; I'm so glad," said little Rosemary. "You will be sure to take good care of her," she implored. "And may I come to see it today? Yes? Oh, goody, goody," and she hung up the receiver and raced about the house, hurrying mother, hurrying the governess, hurrying the cook, hurrying everybody, so that she might be off to the hospital as soon as possible to see the baby, and, maybe, hold it in her arms once more, as she did for the first time the other afternoon.

Little Rosemary found her baby just like in the fairy book. This little girl is not like most rich little girls, but is a sweet little home-body, and is a great friend of the cook.

One afternoon, when it was raining so hard that a little girl couldn't be in the park anyway, she went down into the kitchen and stood watching the cook baste the roast.

Suddenly, when the wind died down a little, there came the funniest little noise from right outside the window.

"Oh, cook, what is that sound?" asked little Rosemary. The cook didn't know, but thought it might be a little, stray pussy asking for shelter.

Rosemary ran to the door and threw it wide open.

"Come, pussy; come, pussy," called little Rosemary, but she didn't see anything. So she poked her head through the door, not minding the rain, and there, on the mat, she saw a tiny little bundle. And there came again the funny little sound, and the little bundle moved. Little Rosemary picked up the bundle and ran back to the kitchen with it.

Beside the warm stove she opened it and there was the cutest little baby, dressed in a white silk dress, silk cap and veil. And the baby had the loveliest black hair, and the cutest big, blue eyes, and it cooed and gurgled as the warmth reached its little body. The cook said it couldn't be more than a month old.

Little Rosemary clapped her hands with glee and ran upstairs to the reception hall shouting:

"Mamma! Mamma! Come quick! Somebody's brought us a baby!"

All over the house they heard Rosemary's cry, and all came running to the kitchen—Mrs. Hollister, Mr. Hollister, Sisters Dorothy and Catharine, the butler, the footman and all the servants. They formed a ring around the little baby, and Rosemary and all laughed as the little waif caught Rosemary's finger in its chubby little hand and cooed some more. So they let Rosemary feed the baby with a spoon, while papa and mamma went upstairs to talk it over.

Pretty soon Rosemary went upstairs again to find out if she could keep her baby, and as she passed the vestibule she saw a girl, not more than twenty, wearing a fur coat and black beaver hat, peeping in through the glass door, and there was an anxious look in her eyes. Rosemary ran to the door, opened it, and asked:

"Are you looking for a baby?"

"No, my dear, I am waiting for a friend," answered the young woman, but there was a catch in her voice as she said it. Then she ran away.

Then came a big policeman in a rubber coat to take the baby away. Rosemary cried as though her heart would break, but finally she kissed the baby good-by and let the policeman take it when he promised to tuck it under his rubber coat so it wouldn't get wet.

PLAY BRIDGE TO SAVE GIRL

Chicago Society Women Raised $300 for an Unfortunate Who Was Disowned by Father.

Chicago.—Bridge whist was played by 300 society women the other day for the benefit of a girl of the slums, the identity of whom none of them knew. The girl's reclamation had been already begun by the Paulist Fathers. The money raised, about $300, will be turned into the fund to complete the reformation.

The girl, who is now nineteen, is said to have fallen in love two years ago while attending a convent. She ran away from school and was married. Her father, said to be a rich contractor, disowned her. She was deserted six months after her marriage and her father refused to take her back.

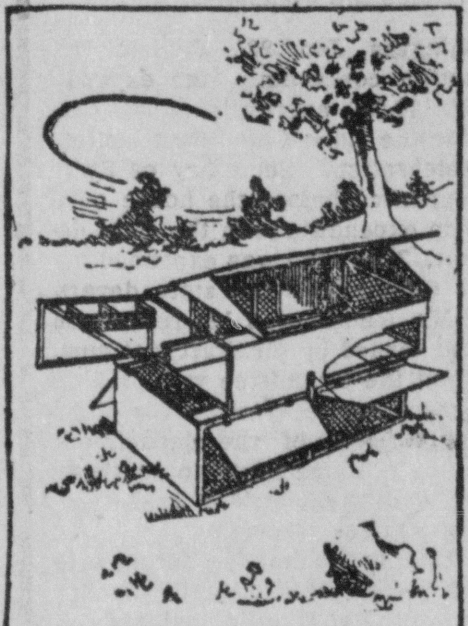

After efforts in other directions she gradually drifted into the underworld. She became a victim of drugs and finally told her story to Father Ferry. He had her placed in a sanitarium where she has been cured of the drug habit. Now remains the work of getting her back into the paths she left two years ago.

POULTRY

NEW YORKER INVENTS HOUSE

In Two Sections, With Walls and Roof Hung on Hinges—Quite Easy to Keep Ventilated.

A rather elaborate poultry house has been designed by a New York man. It is in two sections, one of which slides upon the other and is small enough to be easily taken apart. The lower section has screens along its side walls, while the wooden walls are hinged at the top so that they can be opened at any angle desired, chains holding them in position. In this way ventilation can be obtained and the interior protected from rain or too much light. The upper section, which has a peaked roof, has a door at one end and a series of roosts arranged around the sides and ends on the interior. One-half of the roof is screened, too, and the top on this side is hinged so that it can be kept open or closed. The entire roof can also be slid on or off at will. This arrangement makes it easy to clean the house thoroughly in all parts and keep it well ventilated, thus eliminating insect pests to a great degree.

PERCH SPACE FOR CHICKENS

Small Hens Generally Require About Six Inches While Larger Birds Should Be Allowed Eight.

As a general rule, small hens should have about six inches of perch space while the larger hens should be allowed eight inches. In the winter they huddle closer together, but in the summer there should be plenty of room to allow them to spread out. Perches should be 12 inches apart and not closer than 15 inches to the wall or ceiling. Show birds, especially Hinged Perches and Dropping Board.

Leghorns or similar types should be kept at a greater distance from walls and ceilings. Many good birds are spoiled by "brooding" their tails against the walls.

There are several methods of making movable perches. One of the most common is by hinging them to the wall at the back.

POULTRY NOTES

The fowls must be fed at least twice a day.

Exercise is necessary for both health and egg production.

A box of crushed oyster shell should always be within reach.

Split carrots, turnips and cabbage in half, instead of chopping fine.

Clear fresh water is necessary for the hens at all times and all seasons.

The most profitable way to keep chickens of any kind is to feed them well.

To obtain a supply of winter eggs we must have the chicks out early in the spring.

Old fowls require less feed than young ones and it is a mistake to overfatten them.

The walls and roosts should be kept free from mites, which suck the life-blood of the fowls.

Cement floors should be well covered with straw. The bare floor is too hard and too cold.

After the second annual molt hens are apt to become eggbound, especially if well fed and fat.

When the clean, fresh eggs are gathered they should be put in a clean, dry, cool place until marketed.

A plump young turkey, dressing from eight to fifteen pounds, finds a market at almost any season of the year.

To insure success have the buildings for the hens ready early, and choose fowls of the right age and in good condition.

NEW NEWS OF YESTERDAY

Great Lawyer Who Was Faithful to Burke.

Rufus Choate Owed His Manner of Thought and His Style to Close Study of That Master of English.

By E. J. EDWARDS.

When Rufus Choate, universally conceded to be one of the greatest of American lawyers and orators, and a most brilliant student of the classics and English literature and history, entered Dartmouth college in 1815, Rev. Dr. Alvan Bond, who was for nearly forty years pastor of a Congregational church at Norwich, Conn., and in his day one of the foremost clergymen of his denomination, was a tutor at Dartmouth.

"Rufus Choate became a student under me in Latin," Doctor Bond told my father years afterward. "I thought that when he entered the classroom for the first time he was the handsomest lad I had ever seen. His hair was brown and very curly, his eyes were dark, he had a beautiful complexion. But it was, after all, a singular intellectual revelation which was in his face, his manner, and his speech which especially attracted me, and I am sure, all of his fellow students.

"His translations of the Latin classics were beyond any comparison the finest that I ever heard in the classroom. They were faithful in expressing the meaning of the Latin text, but, meaning of the Latin translations, Rufus Choate's were expressed in singularly beautiful English. I never tired of hearing him translate.

"A little later I discovered that besides having a great gift for the Latin classes, young Choate was a precocious reader of the English classics. I remember that in a casual after-class conversation with him one day he remarked that, greatly as he admired Milton and Bacon, and fascinated as he was by Shakespeare, nevertheless he thought that in some things, especially in his command of the English language, Burke was the superior of any of them.

"Choate was graduated from Dartmouth shortly after I finished my tutorage there and entered the ministry, and I heard little or nothing of him after that until he had gained a reputation both as a lawyer and as an orator, though I had looked for him to take up literature and become a teacher, probably in Dartmouth. Then, one day, in reading a speech that he had delivered, I was struck with the thought that he had been influenced in his manner of thought and his style by a close study of Burke. Instantly there came back to me most vividly the remark that Rufus Choate, when a college lad, had made to me about Burke. Since then I have read speech after speech of Choate's and they all make it plain to me that, as a man, he has been faithful to his boyhood admiration for Edmund Burke. And perhaps because he has been so faithful is one great reason why he is so great an orator, so wonderful a master of the English language."

Many years after my father had told me of this talk with Dr. Bond it became known to me that Rufus Choate, at the time his cousin, Joseph H. Choate, formerly ambassador to Great Britain, was beginning the study of law, wrote to the latter these words: "Remember that these four are the great minds of England: Shakespeare, Bacon, Milton and Burke. And remember, also, that of these Burke is not the least."

Tasting the Drinks.

An old custom has just been observed at Market Drayton, where the annual fair, called "the Dirty Fair," has been opened by the Court Leet. A proclamation, it is reported, was read by the "Ale-Canner," who warned "all rogues, vagabonds, cut-purses, and idle men immediately to depart from this fair."

"Ale-Canner" has a jovial smack about it, but we are afraid it is a misprint for "Ale-Conner," an ancient and honorable officer, both of manors and corporations. His duty was to taste the new brew of every "brewer and brewster, cook, and pie-baker," and if it were unfit to drink the whole was confiscated and given to the poor.

It should be added that in the middle ages "unfit to drink" usually meant weak and watery. The chemist was not abroad in those benighted days, so there was no risk of arsenical by-products being present in the pottle pot.

Kaiser's Gift Taxed.

While Kaiser William rarely laughs and takes himself quite seriously, he is frequently directly or indirectly the provocation of laughter in others. Recently he presented his portrait to the municipality of Berlin. The imperial present was received with enthusiastic demonstrations of gratitude. The city magistrates decided unanimously to make this gift the most elegant ornament of their assembly hall. Some days later the effigy of William II. was placed in a frame of fine gold. Alas, the consequence of this manifestation of official loyalty was not foreseen. Der Startseverordnetenvorsteher (this little term means president of the municipal council) has just received notice to pay the tax recently assessed upon charitable gifts. And the Berliners laugh!

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age.
How It May Be Passed in Safety.

Odd, Va.:—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a pail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years.

"Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARTHA L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The Henry County Republican convention, the first of the year in the state, adopted resolutions which have attracted much attention in the state because of their reference to two important questions agitating the party at present. The renomination of Taft was demanded and the convention went on record in favor of the reenactment of the county local option law. As Henry is one of the banner Republican counties of the state the attitude of the convention was important.

The Indianapolis Star's Democratic presidential primary has not aided the Marshall boom. It shows him a poor fourth with Bryan in the lead with almost five times as many votes as the Indiana favorite son. Kern runs close to Bryan with Wilson third. If the Marshall boom has not aroused any warmer enthusiasm among Democratic workers in other counties than it has in Jackson it will not become overheated.

On the sixth page of the Republican today appears the full text of the new registration law which has been the subject of so much discussion and which is expected to have a considerable effect in the fall election in Indiana.

Teacher's Examination.

The first regular teachers' examination throughout the state this year will be held in every county seat January 27. Questions have been prepared by the state board of education and include common and high school questions. Examinations for kindergarten teachers and supervisors are held in April, May, July and August. Because the 1911 general assembly passed a law which made exemption licenses apply to state licenses as well as county licenses, it is believed that many more teachers will take the state examinations than formerly. The state examination if passed allows the teacher a license that entitles him to teach in any county in the state. Formerly the statutes made the exemption licenses apply to the county licenses only.

COVERED WITH ANGRY PIMPLES

A Skin Trouble That Needs Scientific Treatment.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Instead of bothering with cosmetics and worthless "beauty formulas" if you will treat that case of pimples scientifically you will get results.

We advise using our new skin remedy, Saxon Salve, which is very soothing, yet penetrates the skin and exerts its healing power from the very moment of application.

Any pure soap may be used with this remedy—just apply Saxon Salve at night, following directions. Not only does it clear the face of pimples, but eczema and other angry itching, scaly or crusted eruptions soon yield to its healing power.

The marked and continual improvement noticed shortly after the treatment is begun will soon convince you that Saxon Salve is far superior to any other remedy for the skin.

If you do not get good results from it we pay back your money. The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind.

DEFIES POWER

OF THE HOUSE

Secretary Knox May Be Cited for Contempt.

HAS A ROW WITH COMMITTEE

When Secretary of State Declined to Give the Hamlin Inquisitors Some Desired Information Regarding Secret Expenditures in His Department, He Was Given Until Thursday to Produce the Vouchers.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Refusing all information concerning the expenditure of $20,000 appropriated by congress for the Lake Champlain centennial celebration, Secretary of State Knox appeared before the house committee on expenditures in the state department. This fund was expended under the direction of the state department. Mr. Knox based his refusal on the order issued by Mr. Taft last summer, when the committee was probing the Day portrait mystery. This order prohibits officers of the department from giving information to anybody about expenditures certified by the secretary of state as "secret."

The Hamlin committee intends to make an issue of this "secret" voucher proposition. Mr. Hamlin and his colleagues say they recognize the right of the secretary of state to refuse information about expenditures from the emergency or secret fund of $90,000 a year, but they insist that all details of the Champlain fund and about a dozen others of similar character should be furnished to congress.

This unexpected action was taken following the declaration by Thomas Morrison, disbursing officer of the state department, who appeared before the Hamlin committee, that the Lake Champlain vouchers had been taken from him and not returned. He refused to say who had taken them or why, insisting he must "talk with Secretary Knox first." Mr. Hamlin and his colleagues became excited politically and hurriedly issued the Knox subpoena.

Mr. Knox did not know who had taken the Champlain vouchers from Mr. Morrison's custody. He supposed, however, that some high official of the state department was responsible. Mr. Hamlin and his colleagues made the assertion that the law which permits expenditures from the secret fund to be kept under cover does not apply in any particular to any such funds as that of the Lake Champlain celebration. This is the present issue between the committee and the state department, and to make it clear, Secretary Knox was served with a subpoena duces tecum, returnable at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, demanding that he produce the vouchers in question. He will not do so, and realizing this, the committee is prepared to take the matter to the floor of the house. They may even, they intimated, cite Mr. Knox for contempt.

HIGH COURT DECIDES

Beer Is a Commodity and Railroads Must Carry It.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Beer is a commodity and railroads must carry it, when offered for transportation, from one state into dry counties of another state, regardless of the laws of the latter state. The supreme court of the United States made this ruling regarding a proposed shipment from Indiana into dry Kentucky counties.

The case decided is that of the F. W. Cook Brewing company of Evansville, against the Louisville & Nashville railroad regarding the shipment of beer from Evansville into local option territory in Kentucky. Decisions of lower courts forcing the Louisville & Nashville to carry the shipments were affirmed.

SMALL BOY

Near Dudleytown Coughed Up Carpet Tack.

Since last summer the five year old son of Will Christopher south of Dudleytown has been in bad health and recently his condition seemed to be serious. Some time ago as he was having difficulty in breathing it was decided that enlarged tonsils caused his trouble and his tonsils were removed. He did not obtain relief however.

Sunday during a severe attack of coughing he coughed up a carpet tack and since that time he has been improving. It was known last summer that the boy had swallowed a tack but it was thought he had been relieved of it and this was not thought of as the source of his trouble during the past few months.

A boom for the Republican nomination for state statistician has been launched for Charles S. Tevis who has numerous acquaintances in Seymour having visited the city frequently as the representative of the Daniel Stewart Drug Company of Indianapolis.

REGISTRATION OF INDIANA VOTERS

Text of New Law Relating to This Subject.

MATTER OF GENERAL INTEREST

Here is Set Out in Full the Act of the Last Legislature Providing For the Registration of Voters, and Matters Connected Therewith.

With the opening of what promises to be one of the most interesting political campaigns in the history of Indiana, the readers of this paper will find much of interest in the following text of the registration law enacted by the last legislature and approved March 4, 1911:

Elections—Registration of Voters.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of the State of Indiana, That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person to vote at any general election held in this state, unless such person be at the time a registered voter under the requirements of this act.

County Commissioners—Precinct Boundaries.

Sec. 2. Every order of a board of commissioners in any county in this state establishing, changing, dividing or consolidating election precincts in such county, shall be made not later than their March session in any year in which will occur a general election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The precincts shall remain throughout the year as they are established at such March session, or previously. And a notice required by law of the establishment of precincts or changes of boundary shall be given immediately after such March session, if it has not been previously given.

Registration Inspector and Clerks.

Sec. 3. In each calendar year in which will occur in this state a general election, held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, there shall be appointed a registration inspector and two registration clerks for each voting precinct in the several counties of this state. The registration inspector and clerks so appointed shall constitute the registration board of the precinct for which appointed. The registration inspector shall, at the time of his appointment, be a voter and resident freeholder of the township in which the precinct is situated, and shall have resided in said township continuously for at least one year immediately prior thereto, or a resident householder and voter of the precinct in which the precinct is situated, and shall have resided in said township continuously for at least two years prior to the time of his appointment. The registration inspector shall be appointed by the board of commissioners of the county at its regular April session preceding such election. The auditor shall notify him of his appointment, and within ten days after such notice he shall qualify by taking oath to support the constitution of the United States and of the State of Indiana and to faithfully and honestly discharge his duties as such registration inspector, which oath shall be in writing and filed in the auditor's office of the county. In case such inspector should fail to qualify within the time prescribed, his position shall be deemed vacant. All vacancies occurring in the office of a registration inspector shall be filled by appointment of the auditor of the county. The registration clerks of the precinct shall be appointed by the registration inspector not less than five (5) days before their May session. The county chairman of each of the political parties which cast the highest and next highest vote respectively in the county at the last preceding general election, shall have the right to nominate one of the clerks of the registration for each precinct, provided he do so in writing at least ten (10) days before said May session, and the inspector shall appoint the persons so nominated respectively: Provided, That if either or both of the chairman of said political parties should fail to so nominate, then the inspector shall appoint the clerk or clerks without such nomination. The clerks shall each, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, take an oath in writing to support the constitution of the United States and of the State of Indiana, and to faithfully and honestly discharge their duties as registration clerks, which oath shall be returned by the inspector to the auditor of the county and filed in the auditor's office at the time the inspector returns other papers hereinafter required, immediately after the May session of said board. The inspector and clerks shall hold their office from the time of their appointment until the day following the ensuing general election.

Registration Boards—Sessions.

Sec. 4. The registration board of each voting precinct of this state shall hold in such precinct three regular sessions in each year in which a general election will occur. The first session of such board shall be held on Thursday, the one hundred eightieth (180th) day preceding such election and shall be known as its May session; the second session shall be held on Friday, the sixtieth (60th) day before such election; and shall be known as its September session; the third session shall be held on Monday, the 29th day before such election and known as its October session.

Sec. 5. The auditor of each county shall make, or cause to be made, and delivered to the registration inspector of each precinct in the county, ten (10) days or more before the May session of the registration board, two (2) blank forms of registration books and sufficient number of blank applications for registration, and other necessary stationery. Each registration book shall be covered with tag, have a proper caption, with blanks to adjust it to any precinct, and shall be ruled in ten (10) columns, headed respectively: number; name; residence; where born; when came to U. S.; when and where naturalized; when and where declared intention; where resided since October last; remarks, and shall contain a sufficient number of leaves to allow for registration of all voters in a precinct, with the memoranda required to be made after the names as elsewhere provided by this act, and also for an alphabetical index at the back of the book of the names registered, with a reference to their numbers respectively. The application blanks shall be of such form as are suitable for their purposes under the requirements of this act.

Places for Registration—Notice.

Sec. 6. The county commissioners of each county in the state shall, at least fifteen (15) days before each session of the board of registration provide for and secure in each precinct of the county a suitable room in which the board shall sit during its session, and, if practicable, they shall secure the same room for each session of the year. The room shall not be one in which spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors are kept or sold. The auditor of the county shall give ten (10) days' notice of the time and place of each session of the board of registration, by one publication in two newspapers of general circulation of each of the political parties which cast the highest and next highest vote respectively in the county at the last preceding general election printed and published in the county, if such there be, and he shall cause to be prepared and delivered to the registration inspector of each precinct in the county, at least ten (10) days before the May session of the board of registration, fifteen (15) printed forms of notice of the time and place of such session, with blanks therein as to the township, precinct and place of the session, that by filling the blanks the printed notices may be suitable for any precinct in the county. The inspector of the precinct shall fill the blanks, in writing, properly for his precinct and at least eight (8) days before such session of the board post the same in at least five (5) public places in the precinct and in as many other places as he may deem proper, or cause them to be so posted. The notices so posted of the May session of the board shall have for caption: "Important notice to voters of registration," and in the body the notice shall state in effect among other things: "Every voter of the precinct is required to register at a session of the board. If he fail to register at its May, September or October session, he will have no right to vote at the November election." It shall be the duty of the registration inspector to go to the county auditor's office, at least ten (10) days before the May session of the board, and receive from the auditor registration books, blanks, and other stationery for each precinct. When he has received the blank forms of application, he may place portions of them at such place or places and in such hands in the precinct as that voters therein may conveniently obtain them before the day of registration. He shall retain a sufficient portion in his own hands to deliver to voters who may apply for them before such date, and shall retain till the day of registration, and have at the place of registration on that day, a sufficient portion to supply all voters of the precinct that may there apply for them. The registration inspector shall cause the members of the registration board to be furnished with good, plain and substantial meals during the time they are in session. The expense of registration and preparation therefor, and returns thereof, shall be paid out of the county treasury by the board of commissioners as election expenses are paid; and the county council shall, in due season, make the necessary appropriations therefor.

No other person or persons shall be entitled to be so registered. Nothing in this act shall be construed as qualifying or attempting to qualify any person to vote at any election, even though registered, who would not be so qualified if there were no registration act in force in this state; the purpose of this act being to provide for and require registration in addition to the requirements of other laws and the constitution of the State of Indiana.

Penalty—Board Making False Registration.

Sec. 21. It shall be unlawful for any member of the board of registration of any precinct in this state to register or cause to be registered in the registration books of any precinct, the name of any person, unless such person has presented in his own proper person to such board while in session, at the time provided for in this act for the purpose of registering voters, an application duly signed. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall, on conviction, be imprisoned in the state prison not less than one, nor more than five years, and fined in any sum not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00).

Penalty—Neglect of Duty.

Sec. 22. Any member of the board of registration or any public officer, upon whom any duty is imposed by this act, who shall willfully neglect to perform such duties, or do any act prohibited herein for which punishment is not otherwise provided, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than six months nor more than three years, and by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), and be disfranchised and rendered ineligible of holding any office for any determinate period, not less than five years.

Books and Papers at Election Polls.

Sec. 23. At the time tickets and other supplies are received by the inspector for the November election, he shall also receive from the auditor the registration books, registration applications and affidavits returned by the registration board, and shall have those present at the election precinct on the day of the election, and within three days thereafter shall return them to the auditor.

Challenge—Not Registered.

Sec. 24. In addition to the grounds of challenge of a voter or prop-voter at the election, it shall, hereafter, be a ground of challenge that the person offering to vote is not registered. The person so challenged shall not be permitted to vote until he make and present an affidavit that he is registered and that he is the identical person who is registered under the name under which he intends to vote. Upon such challenge, the election officers of the precinct shall inspect the application for registration, and if they be satisfied that the affidavit of such person is false, they shall order his arrest at once: Provided, That no person shall be allowed by the officers to vote at the election whose name is not registered, even though there be no challenge on that ground.

City Registration.

Sec. 25. In an election in any city of this state, of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States census, there shall be required a census of voters, complying with the provisions of this act; except that in the registration of voters therein the inspector of registration shall be appointed by the clerk of the city and the clerk of the city shall perform all the duties required by this act of the auditor of the county. The duties herein required of the board of commissioners shall be performed by the city council, and the rights or nomination of election officers by chairmen of political parties of the county in this act, may be exercised by chairmen of the city committees of the political parties, if such there be. The city officers shall be required to perform the various duties herein prescribed for the county officers in whose stead they act, subject to the same penalties and provisions herein prescribed as to such county officers. The city shall appropriate for and defray the expense of such registration, in the same manner as it defrays the expense of a city election.

Repeal.

Sec. 26. To the extent that any law heretofore passed is in conflict with the provisions of this act, the same is hereby repealed.

Wealth of the Rothschilds.

The wealth of the Rothschilds is a fascinating theme for speculation, but accuracy is difficult to arrive at. The fortunes of the house, as is well known, were founded by the Rothschild who was the first in England to obtain the news of the battle of Waterloo and profit by it on the stock exchange. The recent death in Paris of Baron Gustave recalls the first occasion on which some idea could be obtained as to the wealth of the firm. The brothers are partners, and the bank has branches in London, Berlin, Paris, Frankfurt and Vienna. The French branch was founded by Baron James, who had four sons. Of these only one, Edmond, outlived him. When his first son, Solomon, died in 1864 he left a widow and a daughter, Helen. When Helen married Baron von Zuylen de Nyevelt her share of her father's fortune, which she brought with her as dowry, was $14,000,880. Baron Solomon's fortune was double this amount, and his three brothers and his sister, who married Baron Nathaniel of London, had equal amounts. Thus the total fortune of the five in 1864 was nearly $160,000,000. As the four branches of the family are equally rich, its aggregate wealth at that time must have been $640,000,000, and that was more than forty-five years ago.—New York Sun.

Alaskan Mail Dogs.

Some of the Alaska dogs are better trail followers than others, and some are better leaders. In a blizzard the best of them lose the trail, but invariably find it. When on the trail they eat but once a day, then at the end of the journey. After feeding, like weary children they fall asleep and are never quarrelsome. It takes on an average twenty pounds of food a day for a team of eleven dogs. The dogs of the mail teams consumed last year three tons of bacon and one of rice. The rice and bacon are cooked together with frozen fish and eaten hot. The dogs are permitted to eat all they want. When too hot they let it cool in the snow. If near the sea or river they will cunningly pull the vessel out on the ice and test the temperature of the contents with their long tongues until the mess can be eaten without burning the mouth.

Diamond Making Without Risk.

The newest method of making diamonds, reported from Berlin, the formation of carbon crystals by decomposing ordinary coal gas with metallic amalgams of mercury, has at least the supreme merit of subjecting the maker to no danger. All previous attempts to rival nature as a diamond producer have been based on artificially creating the enormous temperatures and pressures to which carbon is subjected over vast periods of time in the earth. More than one experimenter has been blown to pieces in a vain attempt to produce these natural forces.—Westminster Gazette.

Famous Tree Dies.

The famous chestnut tree du Vincit Mars in the Tuileries gardens of Paris—famous because it was always the first of the year to burst into bloom—is dead. Strange to say, it will not be cut down, but fenced in, and this will be done in regard especially to the tradition which has it that the poor Swiss soldiers who died in heroic defense of the French monarchs on Aug. 10, 1792, lie buried at its foot.—London Chronicle.

LOQUACIOUS BOARDER'S BOAST

Landlady Who Roomed Ernest Basey, Walking Delegate of the Iron Workers, Tells Federal Grand Jury That the Night of the Von Spreckelsen Explosion Basey Told Her That She Would Presently Hear a Big Noise.

Indianapolis, Jan. 23.—Ernest Basey, the walking delegate of the iron workers, who was in frequent conference with the dynamiters, and Mrs. Alla Hawkins, at whose house the dynam-iters who wrecked the Von Spreck-elsen buildings in this city, boarded for several days, were called before the federal grand jury. Patrick Fitzpatrick, a former member of the iron workers and living here, but who has been away for more than a year, was another witness whose presence excited much interest.

Basey, who since the arrest of John J. McNamara has been spending most of his time away from Indianapolis,
was brought here by the government, but officials refused to say where he had been spending his time recently, or where he was when subpoenaed.
According to Mrs. Hawkins's story he left her house on the night of the Von Spreckelsen explosion in company with three strangers in an auto. Returning, she says he told her she would hear a big noise that night.

According to John Halfman, a saloon keeper, Basey is the man who paid the rent and made all arrangements for two strangers who were kept in seclusion above the saloon for three weeks prior to the explosion. It is not believed that the testimony of either Mrs. Hawkins or Halfman has been completed.

District Attorney Miller says he does not believe that the end of the investigation will be more than three or four days from the original estimate
he made, when he predicted the end for February 1. At the government building it is expected, however, that the three or four days will probably run into February.

While something like 200 witnesses called for the investigation have been heard, there are many who have not yet testified, and United States Marshal Ed Schmidt and his force are kept busy rounding up witnesses.

M'GALLIARD CONVICTED

Jury Says Miss Hayworth's Murderer
Must Go Up For Life.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 23.—The jury brought in a verdict finding Charles McGalliard, Jr., guilty of the murder of Miss Alta Hayworth and fixing his punishment at life imprisonment in the Indiana state prison. Judge Ellis, in his address to the jurors, laid special stress on the fact that they should pay no attention to the fact that Mc-Galliard testified he was intoxicated at the time of the murder. Judge Ellis will probably pronounce judgement later in the week, as attorneys for defendant say they will ask a new trial.
The crime for which McGalliard was convicted was one of the most brutal in the annals of Muncie police history.
McGalliard had an engagement with Miss Hayworth to meet him at the traction station here Halloween night and attend a dance with him. The young woman failed to keep her appointment. McGalliard met her at the dance and, while dancing with her, drew his revolver and shot her through the heart.

This Boy Must Study.

Indianapolis, Jan. 23.—Judge Taylor of juvenile court has sent a boy to Plainfield on a truancy charge. The boy had been sent to the truancy school, but had not attended it. When he was asked by the judge whether he would go to school in the future he said he would not. Judge Taylor said he admired the boy's frankness and thought he should have an education even if it had to be compulsory.

Ambassador Wilson's Mother Dead.
Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 23.—Mrs.
Elma Lane Wilson, mother of Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, and John J. Wilson, former United States senator from the state of Washington, is dead at her home here at the age of eighty-one. Mrs. Wilson was stricken with paralysis last fall, since which time she has been confined to her bed.

Victim of Gasoline Torch.
Indianapolis, Jan. 23.—Joseph Buchanan is dead from burns received when a gasoline torch exploded, burning him badly over the greater part of the body. Buchanan was employed as complaint man by the Indianapolis Gas company and was working on a frozen pipe in the basement at 11
North Meridian street, when the torch exploded.

THE SOCIAL VALUE OF LABOR NOW DEMANDED

Socialists Force Changes in Miners' Constitution.

Indianapolis, Jan. 23.—In the convention of the United Mine Workers the Socialist element has got in a number of amendments to the constitution of the organization, notably the preamble, which was changed by their votes to demand the full social value of labor, and from which was stricken a clause declaring that the organization is not committed to or favors any political party. The same element also secured an amendment fixing the age limit for persons who work in factories at sixteen years. The usual resolution against government by injunction was adopted and members were asked to appeal to their members of congress to stop the abuses under it.

It was announced that a joint wage conference between operators and miners would be held on Thursday. The miners' scale committee has not yet reported a scale of wages to the convention, but will do so before that time.

John Mitchell and William Wilson were present and gave a report of their action at the Atlanta convention of the American Federation of Labor, when they voted against a resolution to prevent members of organized labor belonging to the National Civic Federation. The explanations were in effect that affiliation with the Civic Federation is not in any way prejudicial to organized labor.

NO INITIATIVE

Commissioners Cannot Go Behind Record in Liquor License Cases.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 23.—Ruling in a liquor license case before him on appeal, Judge Carl Yaple, in the Allen superior court, held in effect that under the Proctor law the board of county commissioners may not take the initiative in declining to grant a liquor license, in the absence of a legally filed remonstrance. The case was that of Joseph Pedry, who appealed to the higher court when the county commissioners declined to renew his license after it had been shown in court that Pedry had sold beer to minors.

No remonstrance was filed, but citizens submitted the fact of his sale of liquors to minors, and the board declined to grant the renewal until ordered by the higher court to do so.

DEMANDS BOOKS OF STEEL TRUST

Chairman Stanley Lays Down Law
to President Farrell.

POWER OF THE GOVERNMENT

Will Be Exerted, if Necessary, to Bring
Before the House Committee Investigating the Steel Trust the Records of the Corporation Bearing on the Cost of Producing Iron and Steel Products.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The feature of Chairman Stanley's examination of James F. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, who appeared as a witness before the steel committee, was a threat that the special committee of the house would force the corporation, if necessary, to yield certain records bearing on the cost of producing iron and steel products. Mr. Stanley's threat came at the conclusion of a long wrangle over the cost sheets of the steel corporation.
President Farrell repeatedly insisting that he had no objection to the submission of such records for the perusal of the committee, but that he did object to the general publication of what he called "trade secrets."

"We will get those records," declared Chairman Stanley to Mr. Farrell.
"If there is any power in the government left to attain such an end."

Like all the witnesses of the steel corporation who have appeared in this inquiry, President Farrell was led into the field of speculation and conjecture, and was finally invited to give his views as to what laws should be passed to correct evils in corporate management.

The upshot of the proceedings was an agreement that the steel corporation would submit to the committee compilations showing general average costs and that the committee statistician should have access, if he so desired, to the original records from which these compilations were made.

In the summons citing him to appear Mr. Farrell was ordered to bring along books and records of the corporation itself and minute books of the subsidiary concerns, among them the papers of the Carnegie Steel company prior to its absorption in 1901. Mr.
Farrell testified that he was not the custodian of the papers of the subsidiaries, that he had no knowledge of their whereabouts and was in no way responsible for them. As a result of Mr. Farrell's testimony in this regard, subpenas will be issued for the presidents of practically all the subsidiary steel companies and they will be ordered to bring the records sought in the summons served on President Farrell.

Mr. Farrell took issue with other corporation officials who have appeared, as to the kind of laws that should be passed to regulate corporations.
He disagreed with Judge Gary, Andy Carnegie and others that the government should fix the prices for industrial corporations. He said the exercise of such a power would not be practicable. Mr. Farrell recommended the creation of a board that would give publicity to the affairs of corporations and suggested that such a board would have the power of forfeiture if it were shown that an industrial corporation sold at unreasonably high rates.

Referring to the Gary dinners, Mr.
Farrell denied that these functions were held as a means of evading the law aimed at combinations in restraint of trade. He took issue with the assertion of a member of the committee that $28 is an exorbitant price for rails, and denied that the figure which had been maintained for a long time was fixed by agreement.

LYNCHED FOUR

One Woman Among the Victims of a Georgia Mob's Wrath.

Hamilton, Ga., Jan. 23.—The jail here was stormed by a mob late last night and four negroes, three men and one woman, accused of the murder of Herman Hadley, a prominent farmer, were taken out and lynched.
The negroes were taken to the outskirts of the town, hanged to trees and their bodies riddled with bullets. It is estimated that about 500 shots were fired by the mob, which consisted of over 100 men.

Delighted the Socialists.

New York, Jan. 23.—Senator La Follette made his maiden speech in New York last night at Carnegie hall. He delighted an audience which seemed to comprise many Socialists, by declaring that the recall of judges, which he advocated, should apply to the supreme court of the United States as well as to other courts.

Two Gushers on One Farm.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 23.—Estimated to be good for over 2,000 barrels a day, a gusher was drilled in the new oil field on Blue Creek, Kanawha county, by the Edwards Oil company.
The well is No. 2 on the Graham farm,
No. 1 on that farm being good for more than 500 barrels.

SEEKING TO FIX THE BLAME FOR DISASTER

Responsibility for I. C. Wreck
Is Divided.

Kinmundy, Ill., Jan. 23.—General Manager Foley of the Illinois Central railroad charges the blame for the wreck in which four prominent railroad officials, including J. T. Har-ahan, former president of the Illinois Central road, riding in a private car attached to the rear of an Illinois Central local train, were killed, and three trainmen injured seriously when a limited train crashed into the car at this place early yesterday morning, to the flagman of the local, while county investigators say it lies between the flagman and the engineer of the limited.

The engine crashed through the private car and was stopped by the steel coaches ahead. The limited carried sleeping cars only and withstood the impact. The express, except for the private car, was composed of coaches built of steel. None of the passengers was hurt. James T. Harahan, E. B.
Pierce, general solicitor of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific; F. O. Melcher, second vice president of the same road, and E. E. Wright, a railroad promoter, and son of Gen. Luke Wright, former secretary of war, were instantly killed. Harahan's body, frightfully cut and bruised, was tossed through the roof of the car. The others were found covered with wreckage at the side of the track.

Four other persons in the car, Thos.
Busby, attorney for the Rock Island at Little Rock; Byron Curry, secretary to Vice President Melcher, and two negro porters, known as Francis and Huber, were severely injured. Robert Stuart, engineer on the second train, was severely hurt and may die. C. M. Vert, fireman on Stuart's engine, was also hurt.

VOODOOISM

Is Said to Have Been Practiced by Negro Church Congregation.

Lake Charles, La., Jan. 23.—King Harrison, a negro preacher, head of a sect calling itself the Sanctified church, has been arrested at Jennings, La., near here, and taken to Lafayette for safe keeping. According to detectives, from him will be obtained the clue
that will show why five negro families, numbering twenty-four persons, have been killed within the last year in the rice belt of Louisiana. According to the same sources of information,
it will be revealed that the Sanctified church reverted to the bloodiest practices of darkest Africa, rivaling anything in voodoo lore, and the strange sect had human sacrifices for an atonement for the sins of the congregation.

The Broussard murder Sunday in which Felix Broussard, his wife and their three children were slain, was the boldest killing yet reported. An inscription on the front door of the house occupied by the victims read:
"When he maketh the inquisition for blood, he forgetteth not the cry of the humble." This was followed by the words "Human five."

Marthana Harrison's Engagement.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The engagement of Miss Marthana Harrison, granddaughter of former President Harrison, and known as the "scarlet fever baby," because the White House was quarantined for three weeks when she suffered from that illness, and Harry A. Williams of Norfolk is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Russell Harrison.

Dr. Webster Sentenced.

Oregon, Ill., Jan. 23.—Dr. Harry E.
Webster, murderer of his bigamous wife, Bessie Kent Webster, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Joliet penitentiary by Judge Farrand.

CAN YOU ASK MORE?

Your Money Back for the Asking.
You Promise Nothing.

We are so confident that we can furnish relief for indigestion and dyspepsia that we promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who uses it according to directions, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results. We exact no promises and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely nothing could be fairer.
We are located right here where you live, and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one who is troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets.
Take them home, and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions.
If they don't please you, tell us and we will quickly return your money.
They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity. Three sizes, 25c., 50c., and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies
only at our store.—The Rexall Store.
